TOURNAMENT IS ON ANOTHER STATEMENT

Paducah Club's Third Annual Event Starts Today.

Most of the Best Shooters of the Country are in Attendance at the Big Meet.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

The Paducah Gun club's third annual tournament started off today under the most favorable auspices. The attendance of "crack" shooters is as large as had been expected and the shooting so far has been good. The interest shown by the local people too, is gratifying.

A preliminary practice shoot was held yesterday afternoon and all the entries did good work.

There were ten events on the program today and the list of entries was very large. There will be ten events again tomorrow and Thursday will be the live bird shoot.

The "big fellows" have done very creditable shooting, and some of the local men show up very well. The best scores in six events were as follows: No. 1, 15 birds, Crosby 14, Gilbert 15, Hicks 15, Hughes 15, Fort 15, Waters 15, Legler 14, Ward 14, Brady 14, Brough 14, Le Compt 14, Fulford 15, Moss 14.

Second event 15 birds: Crosby 15, Gilbert 13, Fort 13, Waters 15, One 14, Legler 14, Brough 15, Starr 15, Melstar 14, Starling 15.

Third event, 20 birds: Mose Starr 20, Prouse 18, Page 18, Guy Ward 18, Crosby 18, Legler 19, Ben Starr 19, Le Compt 20, Fulford 18.

Fourth event, 20 birds: Crosby 19, Gilbert 19, Hicks 20, Fort 18, Brough 18, Mose Starr 20, Robinson 19, Starling 18.

Fifth event, 15 birds: Mose Starr 15, Rouse 15, Mercer 14, Enker 13, Robertson 14, Crosby 15, Gilbert 14, Hughes 15, Brady 14, Brough 14, Ben Starr 15, Farrell 14, Le Compt 14, Fulford 15.

Sixth event, 15 birds: Crosby 14, Gilbert 19, Hicks 15, Phillips 14, Waters 14, Legler 14, P. C. Ward 14, Ben Starr 14, Farrell 14, Robertson 14.

There are about forty men in attendance, and all are pleased with the programs arranged, and the nice quarters the local club have.

Some of the men in attendance are: E. D. Fulford, Fulton, N. Y.; J. M. Hughes, Palmyra, Wis.; James E. Howard, Jeffersonville, Ind.; J. T. Page, Elkton, Ky.; Rolla Heikes, Cincinnati; ten men from Nashville, five from Memphis, five from Crawfordsville, Ind.; E. B. Cole, Shreveport, La.; Emile Prago and a large number from Louisville; A. B. Hoyle, Arthur Gamble, R. H. West, G. W. Schuler and Charles H. Drehs of the Cincinnati Gun club; Wm. Cosby of Stratton, Ill.; E. Brady, Newbern, Tenn.; C. W. Fallis, Mechanicsburg, O.; J. A. R. Elliott, Kansas City, Mo.; Fred Gilbert, Spirit Lake, Ia.; John Mackey, Cincinnati; C. O. LeCompte, Eminence, Ky.; Harold Money, New York; Josh Griffith, Owensboro; C. G. Spencer, St. Louis; Geo. Hillmann, Nashville; W. W. Watson, St. Louis; E. D. Falther, Utica, N. Y.; W. R. Crathy, Othello, Ill.; P. O. Hughes, Dayton, O.; T. A. Marshall, Keethburg, Ill.; Ralph Trimble, Cincinnati; Hood Walters, Baltimore; P. O. Goodfellow, M. Hughes, Bridgeport, Conn.; J. E. D. Telford, Utica, N. Y.

A HANDSOME GIFT.

Lexington, April 28.—Mr. F. Clay Elkin, the retiring exalted ruler of the Lexington lodge of Elks, was presented with a magnificent watch chain by his brother Elks at the local lodge rooms. Mr. W. S. Bronston, the newly elected exalted ruler, made the presentation speech.

COMMANDERY HOLDS

ELECTION TONIGHT.

Paducah commandery No. 11, Knight Templars, will hold the regular annual election of officers at their club rooms in the Masonic hall at 7:30 tonight.

YOUTSEY ISSUES ANOTHER COMMUNICATION TO THE PUBLIC.

Claims He Always Told His Wife That Howard Fired the Fatal Shot.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—Youtsey today issued a signed statement as the result of the publications, growing out of his wife's having grasped the hand of Jim Howard in the court house last week as she left the witness stand. He says he never denied what his wife was asked on the stand, and that if she had been interrogated further she would have said that he always told her that Howard fired the shot which killed Goebel.

NONE ARE NECESSARY.

Beckham Will Make No More Speeches Until the Fall Campaign.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—Governor Beckham will make no more speeches before the primary; the opposition having been withdrawn, makes it unnecessary to continue work on the stump. The appointments he had made he will fill in the fall in the campaign for election before the voters at large.

NO TROUBLE FOR US.

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Secretary of the Navy Moody says that the United States will not be involved to the extent of a single shot in the Manchurian trouble.

YALE PROFESSOR DEAD.

New Haven, Conn., April 28.—Dr. Josiah Willard Gibbs, professor of mathematical physics at Yale and a scholar of international fame, died suddenly at his home in this city.

GET MORE PAY

Illinois Central Grants a Concession to its Men.

News Comes as Good Tidings to the Men.

The locomotive firemen of the entire Illinois Central system are happy today as the news was received that the officials at headquarters in Chicago had raised their wages. From now on I. C. firemen will receive 60 per cent of the engineer's salary.

The news was brought to Paducah by John Trantham, a well known local railroad man who returned from headquarters, where he had been at a meeting of the grievance committee. The firemen demanded a 10 per cent increase in wages but to their surprise the officials gave them the 60 per cent scale, which is more than the increase asked for.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT.

TO PREVENT NASHVILLE MAYOR FROM ISSUING A MILLION DOLLARS BONDS.

Nashville, Tenn., April 28.—J. O. Bradford, representing J. Craig McLanahan, of Pennsylvania, and Frank Walton and Mrs. Maria J. Donnelly, of Kentucky, have filed an amended bill in the United States district court seeking to enjoin the mayor and city council from issuing $1,000,000 in bonds to the Tennessee Central railroad under the authorization of the election of August 8, 1901, and of the enabling act passed by the last general assembly. The supplemental bill attacks the constitutionality of the act passed by the general assembly on several grounds, mainly that it is retroactive legislation and seeks to cure defects in the election by which the subscription was voted. The city council now has before it a bill providing for the bond election some time in May. This move also seeks to prevent the holding of this election.

CHINA STANDS FIRM

Refuses the Manchuria Demands of the Russia Government

Conger, the American Minister, Presents to the Chinese Government a Formal Note of Protest.

ENGLAND-JAPAN INDIGNANT

London, April 28.—It is officially announced here that the Chinese government has sent to the Russian government at St. Petersburg a formal refusal to grant the latter's demands in regard to the evacuation of Manchuria.

CONGRER PROTESTS.

Peking, April 28.—Minister Conger has sent a note to Prince Ching, the grand secretary, protesting against two features of Russia's proposed Manchurian agreement, which are considered particularly antagonistic to American interests. The note objects to China's promising not to open more ports to foreign trade because negotiations are progressing in connection with the American commercial treaty for the opening of Mukden and Taku-Shan, and it objects to promising that the foreign employes in China shall only be Russians.

The United States withholds expression regarding the other demands, but is prepared to insist upon her treaty rights if infractions occur.

ENGLAND AND JAPAN.

London, April 28.—England and Japan are in close communication over Russia's proposal formally to annex Manchuria. The indignation of both parties is intense, but it is improbable that either will recommend a resort to arms. Nevertheless all that diplomacy can suggest to arrest Russia's plans will be done.

It is believed in official circles that Japan will refrain from striking until Russia, having established itself in the Yellow sea, begins to tamper with the independence of Korea. It is certain that such a course will be urged on the island empire by the British foreign office.

OIL EXCITEMENT.

Burkesville, Ky., April 28.—The Standard Oil company has had ten complete oil well machines put off at the wharf here. These will be used for drilling in this county.

The oil excitement in this county is running high and a hundred or more wells will be drilled in the next few months. The best producers have been struck in Salt Lake bend, but there are good wells in other parts of the county.

PROGRESSIVE EUCHE CONDEMNED.

Pana, Ill., April 28.—Resolutions were adopted by the Montgomery county grand jury condemning progressive euchre as gambling.

TWO PRACTICE GAMES

The Paducah Team Goes to Henderson for a Little Exercise

Another Crack Player Will be Signed Tomorrow by Manager Jackson.

ONE FARM BOY GOES HOME

The Paducah K. I. T. league team will leave Friday for Henderson, where they play the league team of that city next Saturday and Sunday. The players that will go on this trip are Perry, Mackie, LeCompte, Hedges, Murray, Sweeney, Kenny, Morgan, Sexton, Lloyd, Captain Clifford and a third baseman who will report here this week.

It is a little out of the regular order for two teams of the same league to play independent games before the season opens, but it will not hurt the game any for the teams to meet. It is predicted that the Paducah bunch will "show" the Zimbro aggregation in both games.

Manager Jackson will sign a crack infielder from Louisville today or Wednesday.

Aiken, the Tennessee boy, arrived Monday and was given a trial the same afternoon. Aiken was supposed to be a third baseman. He will be "farmed" out today (that is sent back to the farm in Tennessee). The company is many times too fast for Aiken.

Captain Tom Clifford at third made a hit in Sunday's game. Cap is at home at any place in the game with the single exception of the twirler's slab. Hedges looks good to the fans in the work-outs and his "smoke" is of the thickest.

ATHLETIC TOURNAMENT

MORE ATTRACTIONS ARE OFFERED FOR THE EXHIBITION.

Another good bout has been added to the athletic tournament to be given by Treasurer Hood and Stage Manager Johnson at the Kentucky Friday night. Leon Hellar of Cincinnati and Kid Matthews of St. Louis will go on for six rounds. The men are middleweights and should give a good exhibition. Hellar has whipped such men as Jimmy Murray and Benny Yanger. He is known in Paducah, having fought the "Alabama Kid" a four round fight at a North Side resort in 1901. Hellar won on a foul.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

Mr. Leslie Miller, aged 21, and Miss Sallie Delia Fallis, aged 17, were granted a marriage license this morning at the county clerk's office. Both parties are from Livingston county and are well known there.

Mr. Charles T. Trueheart of Louisville is in the city.

HENDRICK IS WARM

Incensed at Charges of Cowardice Now Being Made.

Was Pulled Off the Track by His Managers Who Demanded His Withdrawal.

NOT PROMISED SENATORSHIP

Louisville, Ky., April 28.—Hon. John K. Hendrick is very much wrought up over the charges of cowardice that are now being freely made by so many Democrats. Today to the correspondent of The Sun he said:

"I am incensed at the charges of cowardice that are now being made against me by some Democrats because I withdrew from the governor's race. I had had no conference with Chairman Young nor with any of the opposition. I was withdrawn by the managers of my own campaign. I was wired at Newport to come here at once and I did so. They then demanded my withdrawal; in fact, told me that I must withdraw. I was violently opposed and demanded to be permitted to fight to the end. Finally, however, I turned the matter all over to them, and you know what was done. No promise of the senatorship was made to me, nor was there any other compromise. I simply acted on the advice of my friends."

DAILY MARKET LETTER.

Wall Street, New York, April 28.—Stocks opened weak and irregular, and the market displayed a sagging tendency during the greater part of the session. During the last hour prices rallied some, but the undertone is not what it should be, but is only what could be expected, considering the lack of interest by the outside, and the general small amount of trading. Wall street is busy again speculating on the probability of gold exports. The continued strength in sterling exchange here and the easier tendency in that commodity in Paris cause several of the leading bankers to expect shipments of the yellow metal soon. Business on the whole was quiet, a token in further evidence since the decline at the week's end that the market had settled down to a healthy and inviolable basis. The Atchison statement issued yesterday showing a decrease in net earnings for March was something of a shock and while it did not bring out anything in the way of general liquidation, it did encourage short selling by traders. The U. S. Steel company's underwriting syndicate dissolved with 200 per cent profit.

WHEAT.

Chicago, April 28.—Market was rather quiet today, but nervous. Opinions expressed by various members in the pit are that all statistics are bearish at present. Receipts for the week are heavier than expected, and the primary movement was less bullish, but the clearances were a little better. There was quite a little selling on the advance, but good support was extended on the dips, and as a rule the market was well taken care of. It was stated that brokers who were the best buyers were working under from Armour. Cash and export business was moderate. At the close there was a

THE NEGRO VOTE

United States Supreme Court Decides a Case.

Relates to the Constitution of Southern States, and a Very Remarkable Opinion.

COURT HAS NO JURISDICTION

Washington, April 28.—The United States supreme court divided three to six yesterday in a decision that relates to the constitutions of some of the southern states that have sought to eliminate the negro vote. The case in point came from Alabama, being that of J. W. Giles vs the board of registrars of Montgomery county.

The case was really brought in the first instance to test the validity of the constitution of Alabama. A negro claimed that the board of registrars refused to allow him to register.

Justice Holmes delivered the opinion for the court. He said that according to the usual precedent the court had no jurisdiction, but that this was a most extraordinary case and the supreme court had determined to lay aside for the time the question of jurisdiction and go into the merits of the case. It was impossible, he said, to grant the relief that was asked by the petitioner, the negro; first, because he had related that he is a qualified voter under a system, which, he admits is fraudulent and in violation of the constitution of the United States. Secondly observed Justice Holmes, it is beyond the power of this court to interfere with political cases of such a nature.

In explaining the case tonight, however, one of the justices of the supreme court said to your correspondent:

"The suit was a bill in equity filed by a negro in his own behalf and a number of others. It is alleged that by the constitution of Alabama a preliminary registration was provided for and that those who got on the preliminary list became permanently entitled to vote, and would not be subject to property and other disqualifications affecting permanent registration; that although entitled to be registered on the preliminary list the complainant had been refused registry, and the effect of the mode of conducting the preliminary registration was to fraudulently disqualify the colored people in Alabama, and that this was to be effected by keeping them off the preliminary list, while all the whites had been put upon the list.

"In brief, the court decided that whatever might be an individual right in an action at law to redress a political wrong of this kind; that the legitimate outcome of the prayer was that the court of equity should take charge of the state government and administer it, which is an unheard of proposition. If the remedy at law was not adequate the relief must be sought at the hands of the political department.

"The decision does not pass upon the validity of the constitution of Alabama, but simply holds that assuming it unconstitutional a court of equity is without power."

MARVELOUS PROCESS.

A METHOD OF TEMPERING STEEL THAT IS WONDERFUL.

Hamilton, O., April 28.—John Pieper, a tool maker of this city, today gave a public exhibition of a new and marvelous process he has invented for tempering steel. It particularly applies to edged tools, and promises to revolutionize the cutlery trade. A razor hardened by Pieper's process shaved long splinters off a wire nail and was immediately afterward used for shaving. Its edge was not damaged at all. A keen butcher knife was driven through a quarter inch of common steel. Capitalists will back Pieper in forming a company for the manufacture of knives and razors.

You may get plenty of exercise and at the same time your stomach and bowels will get out of fix. You wonder why—It's easy. every night, it will unload your stomach and bowels and you will soon be able to eat anything without suffering.

W. E. Oswalt, of Ottumwa, Ia., writes under date of April 1, 1901: "I will take this means to inform you of the benefits I have received from using your Syrup Pepsin. I have been troubled for three years with my stomach. In fact could hardly keep down anything I could eat, and had spent between $100 and $200 with doctors, without getting relief. One day I saw Syrup Pepsin advertised and as I had tried everything else, I gave Syrup Pepsin a trial, and after the first dose, I could eat without nausea feeling. I have recommended Syrup Pepsin to a number of persons who used it with entire satisfaction. I will add that a friend stated he would have been willing six months ago to part with a $500 acre farm for the relief he has obtained."

KAISER APPEALED TO.

Berlin, April 28—Hugh J. Cannon, the Mormon missionary, intends to appeal to Emperor William for permission for the Mormons to remain in Germany, hoping that his majesty's policy on religions may include the Mormons.

In his petition Mr. Cannon sets forth the morality of Mormon doctrines, and refers to the inability of his adversaries to cite any example which the Mormon teachings have been subversive of the laws of the state or of orderly citizenship; he declares also that by the command of the supreme head of the church polygamy is not taught.

Mr. Cannon last Wednesday sent to the emperor and the empress copies of the Book of Mormon in German. If no aid is extended to the Mormon missionaries by Emperor William, and if the orders of expulsion are enforced, all the missionaries will leave quietly.

SENATOR BAILEY'S BIG FEE.

Dallas, Tex., April 28—United States Senator J. W. Bailey of Texas, who is absent in the east, is receiving congratulations on having recently been paid a fee of $200,000 for services rendered in New York financial circles.

John H. Kirby of Texas, recently determined to refinance one of his large companies operating in the pine forests of southeastern Texas. The reorganization included plans for the building of a railroad. Mr. Kirby met Mr. Bailey in Washington and employed him to assist in enlisting New York financiers in the enterprises, his compensation to be a fee and commissions amounting to $200,000.

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed C. Nud, lowaville, Sedgwick Co., Kan. "Going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me, I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches—able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

MANY IMMIGRANTS.

New York, April 28—According to the Ellis Island statistician this month, for April, will be a record breaking one in the number of aliens brought to this country. Including the 600 landed from the steamer of the St. Paul today the 1,804 brought by the Batavia and the 725 carried by the Blucher, there have already been landed at Ellis Island during the 26 days of this month 89,610 immigrants. It is believed that the total number of arrivals for the month will run well over 100,000.

HEAVILY INSURED.

New York, April 28—The Prudential Insurance company, through its Philadelphia agents has just issued to Rodman Wanamaker, son of John Wanamaker, a policy for $1,000,000. The premium on the policy is $30,000 a year. This makes Mr. Wanamaker one of the most heavily insured private individuals in the world, as he carries policies for $2,000,000.

AFTER THE BALL

Hendrick Saw That He Would be Robbed.

Believed His Friends Would Not Be Allowed to Vote in Louisville.

THE PROBABLE MACHINE SLATE

Louisville, Ky., April 28—From statements made by a number of Colonel Hendrick's close friends, it is learned that the most potent factor in determining Colonel Hendrick's withdrawal was the practical admission on the part of the Beckham forces and the Democratic state central committee that Colonel Hendrick could have no representatives at the polls. It has been known for several days that the election officers all over the state have been selected, and that not one of them would have voted for Colonel Hendrick. Colonel Hendrick knew this, and saw that with such conditions true he would have no chance of election.

Colonel Hendrick is reported as saying that he had positive information that in Louisville his friends would not be allowed to enter the polls. Though his card indicates that he withdraws with perfect good will, it is, nevertheless, certain from facts learned from his friends last night that he withdraws only when forced by overwhelming circumstances to get out.

CONSIDERATION FOR WITHDRAWAL.

The consideration for the withdrawal and the final means which led to an agreement at the Seelbach hotel conference was, it is understood, that Hendrick shall be reimbursed for all expenses incurred by reason of his candidacy. His entrance fee and entire campaign expenses will be refunded from the Democratic machine treasury.

PROBABLE MACHINE SLATE.

The withdrawal of Colonel Hendrick is significant. The indications are that other withdrawals will follow in the next few days, and that the following slate will remain in the field: Governor, J. C. W. Beckham; lieutenant governor, Abe Renick; auditor, S. W. Hager; secretary of state, H. V. McChesney; treasurer, Gus Richardson; superintendent of public instruction, J. H. Fuqua; attorney general, Napoleon B. Hayes; commissioner of agriculture, Hubert Vreeland.

It has not yet been determined whether Morgan Chinn or Robert Green shall become the slate candidate for clerk of the court of appeals.

PROBABLY NO PRIMARY.

The result of such withdrawals, if they should come, would be the calling off of the primary which is set for May 9. From a politician who was present at the meeting of the conciliatory factions, it was learned that the chances of a primary being held are only remotely possible.

All of the above candidates are friends and supporters of the present administration.

BECKHAM HOLDS THE LINES.

With Hendrick removed from the race, Beckham holds complete power, if he did not before, and it is certain that he can name those who are to be nominated.

"We are not sanguine over this matter," said a Beckham Democrat at Seelbach's last night. "We fear that the withdrawal of Hendrick will bring disastrous results to the party. We fear that only about one-third of the Democratic vote will be polled. With Hendrick in the race a great many Democrats would have gone to the polls who will not go now. The spirit of competition would have brought them out. Now, even if plans should fall and primary should be held, we calculate that in the November election at least one-half of the Democrats of the state will not go to the polls, for they will feel in no wise bound to do so, not having had a chance to vote for a candidate for the nomination. They will look on the matter as out and dried, and will not take the trouble to cast their ballots."

"A movement, such as this, is disastrous sooner or later. Interest will flag, and where the party is not kept alive by competition within its own ranks it does not put forward its full strength."

ED LEIGH WAS PLEASED.

Frankfort, April 28—The news of Hendrick's withdrawal was conveyed to Ed O. Leigh, private secretary of Gov. Beckham, by telephone from Louisville, and his exultation knew no bounds. He immediately set about to secure communication with Gov. Beckham, who is at Owenton, where he was advertised to speak tomorrow, and it is likely that will be the governor's last appointment before the primary, not now having any opposition or charges against the administration to defend.

ALLIE YOUNG FEELS ENCOURAGED.

Louisville, April 28—"The committees will not have headquarters in this city until after the primary," said Mr. Young. "The headquarters at Frankfort will be sufficient until that time. Of course after the nomination are made it will be necessary to carry on the campaign from Louisville. The outlook for Democratic success was never better, and the nominees will win by old-time majorities. The election officers of the primary will be the Democrats in the state, and there will be no cause for complaint."

ALL IS LOVELY NOW.

Louisville, April 28—"The First district will give the Democratic nominee for governor 15,000 majority," said Senator N. W. Utley, who was chairman of Mr. Hendrick's campaign committee. "It will be the largest majority for years. Mr. Bryan got 14,000 majority, but it is sure to be larger this time. All the Democrats are in line. There is not the slightest indication of defection."

CUBAN ANNEXATION.

Washington, April 28—Senator Newlands will renew his fight for the annexation of Cuba with the next session of the congress. He made that statement today just before leaving for his home in Nevada. The senator has always been an advocate of annexation, and thinks that it is the only outcome, whether it be now or at some future time.

Mexico City, April 28—Captain Harry Holt of New York city has arrived here and is negotiating for the purchase of the Popocatepetl volcano from General Casper Ochoa. Captain Holt represents a syndicate of New York men who wish to develop the sulphur deposits.

BAD APRIL FOR PLANTING.

Union City, Tenn., April 28—The weather here has been so cold the past ten days that vegetation of all kinds has scarcely grown at all, and a great many people have not yet planted gardens. Many pronounced this the worst April for farming they have ever seen.

RESULT OF RICHES.

New York, April 28—It was learned today that both John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and John D. Jr., are constantly watched by detectives because both father and son have received so many threatening letters from cranks that it has been thought advisable to have an officer constantly on hand.

INSTRUCTS THE JURY

Judge Cantrill Gives the Law to the Jury in the Howard Case

Mrs. Youtsey Wanted to Tell What She Knew, But Was Ruled Out.

CASE GOES TO THE JURY SOON

Frankfort, Ky., April 28—Judge Cantrill convened court yesterday afternoon. The court room was crowded when the defendant and Mrs. Howard entered and took seats with the lawyers for the defense. Judge Cantrill instructed the jury as follows:

First—If the jury believes that Howard shot Goebel, or if they believe that one of the others mentioned in the indictment killed Goebel, and that Howard was present and aided or counseled the deed, they ought to find the defendant guilty.

Second—Sandlin's testimony can only be considered as affecting the credibility of Bev. White.

Third—If the jury believes that there was a conspiracy; then, after the conspiracy was formed, any act of one conspirator becomes the act of all.

Fourth—Formal determination of conspiracy.

Fifth—The defendant cannot be found guilty on uncorroborated evidence of accomplices.

Sixth—Unless the defendant has been proven guilty beyond a doubt, the jury ought to find him not guilty.

The instructions were in line with appellate court decisions in the case.

"Mr. Sheriff, I charge you and each of your deputies that perfect order must be maintained during this argument, and that no expression of approval or disapproval of what is said shall be voiced," said Judge Cantrill after giving the instructions.

Carlo Little began the opening argument for the defense saying that he relied upon the absolute innocence of the accused to gain for him a verdict of not guilty.

"You said you would not try this case on newspaper reports of former trials. That is all we ask. Try it on the evidence, and we shall be satisfied," said the speaker.

Mr. Little then sketched the conditions of the contest, and said that with 1,400 armed and desperate men in Frankfort it would be strange indeed if the conspirators had to send for Howard to do the killing.

"We do not condone the crime, nor ask anything for Powers or Culton or Golden or Taylor; we simply say that boy, Jim Howard, had nothing to do with it," said Little, further along.

"They take an ex-convict out of jail and put a lie in his mouth to discredit the testimony of Jim Howard's witness, Bev. White," said Little at another point, touching upon the methods of the prosecution.

Mr. Little described Howard's trip to Frankfort, and pointed out that there was ample proof that he came, as he stated, to make an application for a pardon in the Baker case and said it was not for this jury to pass upon the merits of that case.

MRS. YOUTSEY

Could Have Given Some Interesting Information.

Winchester, Ky., April 28—Although she declined to be interviewed for publication it is learned here on absolutely unquestionable authority, that Mrs. Henry E. Youtsey is convinced of the innocence of "Jim" Howard, and that she believes the "Youtsey confession" absolutely untrue from beginning to end.

Upon just what knowledge Mrs. Youtsey bases her belief is not known, except possibly to her family and close friends, but that it is based upon some tangible evidence there can hardly be a doubt, nor is there any doubt but that in the event that "Jim" Howard is convicted, she will make, or cause to be made, a statement that will throw an entirely new light upon the case. Just what this statement will be can not be made public at present.

It was said here today by one who has inside information: "Jim Howard will never hang for the murder of William Goebel. If he is sentenced to death things will be brought to light which will make it impossible for any man to sign the death warrant."

All doubt as to what Mrs. Youtsey meant by shaking hands with "Jim" Howard has been removed, and it is known positively that she meant: "I

FREE FACE BLEACH FOR COMPLEXION

I WILL SEND FREE TRIAL BOTTLE OF MY FACE BLEACH TO ANY LADY SENDING NAME AND ADDRESS.

MME. A. RUPPERT, 6 E 14TH ST., New York City

How to Obtain a Lovely

COMPLEXION

Clear and Beautiful

It is every woman's duty to be as youthful and good looking as possible, and there is nothing which adds more beauty than a lovely complexion, and there is no remedy which will restore the complexion and give one that youthful appearance like MME. A. RUPPERT'S World Renowned Face Bleach. This grand remedy clears the skin of every discoloration and impurity, including pimples, freckles, moth patches, brown spots, liver marks, comedones, flesh-worms, blackheads, oiliness, sallowness, muddiness and skin diseases. It accomplishes these wonderful effects by drawing the impurities and discolorations to the surface of the skin and then removing these blemishes by gradually scaling off a slight surface of the outer scabskin. It does this in so natural a manner as to be entirely harmless to the most delicate complexion, and, having this action, it cannot fail to produce excellent effects.

Most marvelous results are obtained when Face Bleach is used according to my new Special Directions in conjunction with my Egyptian Balm, which nourishes and feeds the tissues and glands of the skin, and adds the finishing touch which refines, purifies and preserves the skin in its pristine splendor, giving it the glow of youth.

Now, in order that every lady reader of this paper may obtain the highest possible effect from the use of my preparations, I will make the following stupendous offer to all callers at the below address. A bottle of my Face Bleach, a trial jar of my Egyptian Balm, a bar of my most exquisite Almond Oil Complexion Soap, my New Special Directions, my book, "HOW TO BE BEAUTIFUL"—all for $2. am convinced that this man is innocent."

She was deeply disappointed when she found that the law sealed her lips and that she could not tell the jury what she knew of the pressure that was brought to bear upon her husband. It was on account of this that she walked over to the defendant when she was excused and warmly shook his hand and that of his wife in order that the jury might see that she believed "Jim" Howard absolutely innocent of any part in the crime with which he was charged.

BRECKINRIDGE HOT.

WOULD NOT HAVE WITHDRAWN HAD HE KNOWN HENDRICK WAS TO BE A QUITTER.

Danville, Ky., April 28—Robert J. Breckinridge is not in the best humor over the late move made by which Hendrick withdraws. He says that it was his understanding when a conference was held between his friends and Hendrick's that Hendrick was to run the race out. He also says that Hendrick ought to have known something about his own strength when this conference was held. "If I had known that Hendrick was going to withdraw," said Judge Breckinridge, "I certainly should not have consented to a conference, or withdrawn from the race for the nomination."

Judge Breckinridge closed with the significant words, "Yes, the machine is invincible, and its ways past finding out."

ELEVEN KILLED IN COLLISION.

Buffalo, Kan., April 28—A north-bound Missouri Pacific stock train crashed into the rear end of a work train just south of this town at 7 o'clock Sunday evening and eleven men were killed and twenty-five injured. Ten of the latter are seriously and four probably fatally hurt. They were Greeks and Italians, excepting one Peter Fry, an American, who has lived here several years and was a boss on the work train. The cause of the wreck is given as misreading of orders.

BEAUTY AND STRENGTH

Are desirable. You are strong and vigorous, when your blood is pure. Maay—nay, most—women, fail to properly digest their food, and so become pale, sallow, thin and weak, while the brightness, freshness and beauty of the skin and complexion depart. Memory this unpleasant evil by eating nourishing food and taking a small dose of Herbine after each meal to digest what you have eaten. At DuBois, Kolb & Co.

SOUND ADVICE.

SENATOR HANNA TELLS YOUNG MEN TO BE ENERGETIC IF THEY WISH TO GET ON.

Columbus, O., April 28—Senator Hanna in his address to the students of the Ohio state university said in part:

"In taking employment, a young man should not be a machine, working so many hours per day. If he is to carve out a future for himself he should work as energetically as though the business were his own. It is a mistake to think that the employer is not watching his development and appreciating his service, if he is energetic."

"With men there are always things to be taken advantage of; the women make their opportunities. It is encouraging in our development that the young women find vocations suitable to them. Why, if my wife would allow me, I would have a young woman filling every position of stenographer in my office. I plead guilty. I admire them, but above all, I have more confidence in them than in the boys. They are more industrious, more efficient and a good deal safer."

MIRRORS FOR MOTORMEN.

(The St. Louis Post-Dispatch says:) Ninety per cent of the damage suits brought against the Transit Co. filed in the circuit court contain the allegation that the car was started while the passenger was still on the step. As decisions adverse to the Transit Co. are often rendered for sums varying from $1,000 to $10,000, the company has been casting about for some device to prevent this class of accidents. Most feasible of the devices suggested is a mirror, which is set at such an angle that the motorman can see the passenger getting on or off the car. The mirror attachment is being tried on the Olive street line, and a number of the cars have been fitted with it. It is said that all the lines will be equipped with this safety device if it proves to be of practical value.

MINERAL LANDS ARE SOLD.

Sergeant, Ky., April 28—Eastern capitalists have closed a deal on 15,000 acres of fine mineral lands along Quicksand and Buckhorn creeks, west of here in Knott county, at $20 an acre. Most of the land lies along the proposed route of the Lexington and Eastern from Jackson and will be developed at an early date.

THE PORTERS' CIPHER

They Can Tell a Man's Capacity for "Tips"

Communicate With Each Other by the Way Labels Are Pasted.

"Well, I struck a brand new thing today," remarked a clerk of a well known hotel in this city.

"For some time my attention has been attracted to certain porters, employed here in this hotel, by their strange and until now unaccountable actions regarding the arrival of new guests."

"Every time a guest appears these men make a wild dash for his baggage and immediately begin a hasty, but thorough examination of it. Then their manner as quickly becomes one of marked and really unnecessary politeness or one of painfully evident duty. Knowing that tips are not to be expected until some service is rendered, certainly not until at least the baggage has been landed, the cause of all this I could never penetrate. But one morning last week I hit upon the thing in quite an unexpected manner. There was some mistake about the guest's trunk—an actress who was to play in this city that night. She did not arrive until Monday at noon, so there was no time to be lost, and I at once took things in my own hands, and began the search for the trunks. When I entered the baggage room I noticed the porter, bending over the different trunks, examining the labels, and was astounded by the accompanying remarks I overheard. 'No good, nethin' doin', said one. 'There's a good thing,' came from another direction, and in less time than it takes to tell, the baggage was divided. The N. G. side and the good thing side, as I afterward learned."

"Now, see here, boys," said I, 'I want to know what this means,' and I explained how I had been watching them for some time, but that now I must have the reason for all this unusual conduct, and it was with the greatest effort I finally forced the confession from one of the porters."

"You see, boss," said he, 'we've got to study the question of tips; a tip on tips, you know, and we work together like, say when a guest leaves a hotel to go to another, the porter, if he's on, pastes the label on his baggage in a slanting position, which means he is good for tips, while when the labels are pasted on straight, it means that this guest considers that the hotel pays us for our services, and we know there is nothin' doin' and we do just our duty, 'cause anything extra would be wasted on these people."

"Tricks in all trades, boss," he continued, and quickly repeated the name of the actress and walked right over to the N. G. side, and put his hand on her trunk without any trouble. 'Show me the label,' I said, and there it was perfectly straight. 'And this means,' I ventured, 'that you'll get no tip.' 'It does, sir,' he answered. I made it a point to inquire about this later, and much to my surprise I learned the actress had confined her tips to the dining room, and that none of the waiters there had become independently rich. So after all the communication through labels may count for something. At any rate it is novel."

WHAT A YELLOW DOG DID.

St. Louis, April 28—While Major General H. C. Corbin, U. S. A., was inspecting the world's fair grounds alone, and thinking over his coming duties of grand marshal during the dedication ceremonies next week, a common yellow dog slipped up from behind, and, without a warning, bit the general in the leg. General Corbin wheeled around, but the dog again seized his clothing with avidity which put the warrior to rout.

He ran and finally outran the dog, arriving at the emergency headquarters, where Dr. Moore speedily cauterized the wound. Dr. Moore assured General Corbin that the wound would not prove serious, and he proceeded with his arrangements.

A TIME OF DANGER!

Thousands in Peril from Blood Diseases and Nerve Troubles Developed During the Winter Months.

The Great Spring Blood Purifier, Nerve Bracer and Health Builder.

Paine's Celery Compound is the wonder of the age! Its marvelous virtues are discussed amongst interested medical men, and its cures are talked of at every fireside.

As a spring health giver Paine's Celery Compound stands far ahead of all other known remedies; it has no worthy competitor in the vast field of medicine.

To a large extent the present popularity of Paine's Celery Compound is due to the fact that it has accomplished some of its most astonishing cures in the spring season—a time when men and women usually complain of ill health, loss of vitality, tired feelings; a time when people feel dull, listless, despondent and ambitious.

Today there are thousands of business men, mechanics, farmers, and dear wives and mothers, too, who, though able to walk around, are, nevertheless, sadly "out of health."

At this season Paine's Celery Compound is the great health restorer and strength giver for the "out of health" people—for those who are perilously nearing some organic disease. Paine's Celery Compound used at once will quickly remove every trace of poison from the blood, brace up the weak nerves, build up the tissues and tone the digestive organism.

If you, dear reader, feel that your health is not as robust and vigorous as it should be, let us honestly suggest the use of Paine's Celery Compound, that has so wonderfully blessed your neighbors and friends. Be assured, "it makes sick people well."

FUTURE OF NEGRO

NEW YORK PREACHER DISCOVERS THE SOLUTION OF THE RACE PROBLEM.

New York, April 28—After a trip through the South for the purpose of studying the negro problem Dr. R. S. MacArthur of the Calvary Baptist church has returned to New York. He visited nine Southern states and met representatives from three or four other states.

Speaking of his trip, he said: "It must be admitted that in my travels I found men sensitive over the Booker Washington incident at the White House, but even they are recovering from the effects of the first shock. They now learn that the president's act bears no more relation to the social equality of the races than the political affiliation of the man in the moon."

"Even the bitterness of the Crum appointment is fast passing away, and the South has unbounded admiration for President Roosevelt and his wonderful achievements, in his strenuous personality and unspotted character."

"The people of the North should trust the South more fully today in its treatment of the negro than ever before. The difficult problem of the past is fast nearing its solution. Mr. Carnegie's gift came at an opportune time. Booker Washington is the Moses to 9,000,000 blacks today that Moses of old was to 8,000,000 Hebrews. He is another Washington, only to vastly greater numbers than was our general and president."

"A brighter day is coming, when the mutual trust between the North and South will solve the problems of the hour. The future of the negro in the South is bright, not dark; hopeful and not despairing."

THE BATTLE WILL BE FOUGHT.

The battle with machine methods,
political corruption and incompetent
management in Kentucky will not cease because Mr. Hendrick has seen fit to abandon the contest. We do not believe that the people of this state
have so lost their sense of self respect
or of state pride that they are going
quietly to submit to the presumptuous
and unscrupulous methods of the gang
of lightweight politicians who have
pre-empted the offices at Frankfort.

Never before in her history has Kentucky been so attractive to capital and investors as at the present time. Every day records the drilling of a new
oil well, or the opening a new coal vein.
Her mountain sides are covered with forests of virgin timber, while the variety and abundance of her mineral resources mean untold wealth to her people.

But with all these remarkable advantages, the old Blue Grass state is only partially enjoying the prosperity
that should be her portion. Capital hesitates to enter a state where the individual rights of the people are disregarded, where the ballot box is prostitu-
ted to the wishes of a corrupt political machine and where every election
day but adds another proof of the fact that the state has been abandoned to the spoilsman. The good people of the state must assert their manhood
and defend their rights, if they expect
strangers to cast in their lot among us
and help develop the vast resources
that nature has poured about us. Until that day comes, Kentucky will lag
in the procession. The great centers
of industrial enterprises will be built
up in other states and one day Kentucky will awake to the fact that her
minerals and timbers are but the feeders for the prosperity of adjoining states, where the political rights of the individual are respected.

The hope of Kentucky rests in the Republican party and the great independent vote of the state. At the coming state Republican convention a ticket will be chosen by the people
that will be a credit to Kentucky and representative of her citizens. No officeholders trust will dictate the nominees and no political machine will manipulate the proceedings. The battle so valiantly begun by Mr. Hendrick and his followers will be renewed with new leaders and the fight will be to the finish.

We take it for granted that Governor Beckham satisfactorily explained to Mr. Hendrick why he paid Captain Calhoun $71,000 of the state's money
for doing what he had agreed to do
for $3,000, and also why he gave
the same lucky Calhoun $18,000 of the soldier's pay. Mr. Hendrick was mightily concerned about these things
a day or two ago.

Lieutenant-Governor Lee of Missouri, has resigned his position as a result of the campaign against political corruption being waged by Circuit Attorney Feik. He says his political downfall is due to his refusal to maintain a policy of silence and concealment. It looks to people on the outside as if his
rain has been caused by his own rascality.

It is a strange coincidence that Mr.
Hendrick's consultation with a large number of his friends' should have occurred just after it was too late for

any other candidate to enter the field
against Beckham.

There was a man named John K.
Who showed his opponent up punk-a;
"For principal" he'd run
But now he is done—
The Republicans have 'em all on the run-k.

The files of our esteemed morning
and afternoon contemporaries will make highly interesting reading in the coming state campaign.

Kentucky's boy governor may be a novice in politics but he is getting
onto the main points of the game right
fast.

HENDRICK'S CARD

TELLS WHY HE WITHDREW
FROM THE RACE.

Mr. Hendrick's withdrawal is as follows:

"I am no longer a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.
After consulting with a large number
of my friends today in the city of Louisville, and after long and mature deliberation, it was decided that I could not win, as the time allotted for canvassing the state was too short to meet
with even a reasonable per cent. of the Democratic voters. Up to the present
I have been enabled to canvass
less than 40 counties of the 119, and on the eve of the primary I realize that it is impossible to confer with or
present my candidacy to even one-third of the members of my party.

"On account of the friends who have so generously supported me, I regret exceedingly the necessity which impels me to this step, but I do not
desire to continue a hopeless contest,
or to do anything that will further
embitter the already strained conditions of the Democracy of the state.

"I have been devoted to the interests of my party since I attained my majority, and I am willing now to sacrifice my personal ambition for harmony in the party that I sincerely believe stands as the sole representative
of the plain people in our great country.

"To those who have so generously proffered me their support, I desire to return my most grateful acknowledgments, and I beg to assure those who have questioned my Democracy that I stand ready now to follow my party's
flag to the last ditch.

"JOHN K. HENDRICK.

IN THE SPRINGTIME

THE WOMAN WITH THE HOUSE-
CLEANING MANIA.

And What She Can Accomplish With
a Worn-Out Brush and Paint—Timely Advice to Husbands Thus Threatened.

Consider now the woman who doth
clean in every room,
And search for hidden treasure in the
garret full of gloom;
She rambleth through the hallways
And she scrambleth down the stair,
And seeth great improvements that
are needed everywhere;
She goeth to the cellar, where the
light is dim and faint,
And there she carolth in glee, for
there she findeth paint—
She findeth paint in buckets that the men who paint have left Behind them when they daubed about
the place with fingers deft;
She gurgeth in her gladness, and
there cometh then a hush,
A hush of speechless pleasure, for she
diggeth out a brush!

The brush hath lost its bristles and
the handle hath been bent,
But unto her it seemeth as a prize by fortune sent.
She taketh up the buckets and the
brush, and singeth sweet,
And lieth up the cellar stairs with
quick and joyous feet.
She ordereth some turpentine, some
oil, and other wares,
And stirreth them within the pail and
hummeth happy airs;
And then she goeth up and down and
all about the house,
One eye in search of spots to paint—
the other of a mouse.
She putteth red upon the door and
blue upon the stairs,
And decorateth wondrously the worn
and ancient chairs.
The pipes for which the plumber hath
demanded such a pile
She tinteth green, and chanteth low
and gayly all the while.

And all about and all around and into
every place
She swoopeth with her buckets and
her brush and joyous face,
And verily there is no doubt that she would change the hue
Of all the chattels in the house that come into her view
If but the paint she joyeth in would
not spread so fast;
And as she swieth with the brush
she sigheth: "It won't last."
She tricketh out the window frames;
It cometh then to pass
That there be daubs and finger prints
upon the gleaming glass;
She putteth golden brown upon the
border of the floor,
And leaveth rugs and carpets so they
please her eye no more;
And then she sitteth down in grief and
doth most loudly bawl
Because a streak of paint she leaveth
on the parlor wall.

Behold, her husband cometh home,
and findeth her in tears,
With paint upon her hands and arms
and pigment in her ears,
With burnt sienna in her eyes, ver-
million on her nose,
And paris green in spots between her
top hair and her toes,
And prussian blue upon her shoe—and
she doth yearn to swear
When he doth heartlessly discern the
new tints of her hair.
Nor doth it lessen any of the weight
of her distress
When raucously he laugheth at the
striking on her dress,
And when he looketh all about to see
where she hath hit,
She followeth his gaze and sayeth,
"But it needed it!"
My son, my son, there is no moral—
nay, nor helpful thought That from this simple narrative may easily be got.
It only showeth how it hath from all
times been the plaint
Of woman that she never had the proper chance to paint.
But flea unto the mountain; yea, with
swiftness hit the sand
When that thou seest woman with a paint brush in her hand!

BLUE IN TROUBLE

Is Now Awaiting Trial for Horse Stealing.

Nice Reward for the Officers Who Made the Arrest.

Henry Blue, the negro who was with Louis Baford when he was killed at Kuttawa, is now in the hands of the law for an offense that will put him in safe keeping for many years. It seems that Blue must have been preparing for a trip. Last night he sold a horse and buggy to Mr. Moore of Worthen's addition for $15. It was learned this morning that Blue had stolen the outfit from Scott Overton, another negro. Blue had invested the proceeds in new clothes, and this morning was quite dressed up when he was nabbed by the officers. The state has a standing reward of $50 for the arrest of horse thieves, and this will probably be given to Officers Headles and Singery, who made the arrest.

A SMOKE CONSUMER.

WILL BE INSTALLED AT THE CITY ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

The light committee of the general council met in called session at the city hall this morning to consider the request of Erv Berry of the North Side, who asked the privilege of installing a smoke consumer at the city's electric light plant power house. Mr. Berry claims that his invention will save 10 per cent in fuel.

The request was granted with the understanding that if it was not a success the smoke stack would be replaced at Mr. Berry's expense. If the consumer proves a success the council will pay the actual cost of placing the consumer at the plant which will be $190. Mr. Berry was required to give a bond to carry out the contract as agreed upon.

FINED THE BOYS.

THE WHEELER GUARDS GETTING TO DISCIPLIN IN COMMENT.

John Cobb and George Yopp, two members of the Wheeler Guards, were last night fined $5 and costs for not having been present at the inspection made by Major Basset last week. Cobb's fine and costs amounted to $6.50 and Yopp's to $11.50, the latter which was paid. Cobb refused to pay the fine. This is the first instance where any member of the company has been fined for this offense. Cobb was not detained at the armory all night as was stated in The Register this morning, and will not be turned over to Sheriff Potter.

A number of states were represented in the fatalities, and likewise in the survivors. The reunion was that of the "Survivors of the Sultana" and their friends. Major Will A. "Be honest;
 "Don't depend on others;
 "Be clean and decent;
 "Don't gamble;
 "Save 25 cents of every dollar;
 "Invest your savings in real estate in some thriving city and success will come to you."

This is good advice. Russell Sage is one of the most conspicuous examples of what a man can do towards accumulating a fortune in this country. He is one of our very richest men, and a big part of his fortune was made in real estate. His advice is eagerly sought after and followed by investors in the east, and his lead is a profitable thing to follow.

If you desire to invest in any Paducah real estate see me. I have some splendid investments.

Paducah real estate was never more valuable than it is at present, and the future for it was never brighter.

A GREAT THING

The Carnival Attractions Will Make Everybody Glad.

Thousands Will Feel Glad They Are Alive.

The greatest panacea on earth for the blues, melancholia or the other kindred troubles of life is the great Ferrari Bros.' Mighty Midway Carnival, which is to be here as the amusement feature of the coming carnival in this city. It is the cure-all for dull hours and the greatest business maker on earth today. The man who feels in the dumps wants a whirl on the midway to convince him that life is worth living after all. When he has had it he is practically a new man. There is so much to see and enjoy with the great aggregation that sorrow takes to the tall timber and gloom "goes away back and sits down," out of an occupation. Among the many features of the colossal aggregation of shows are the magnificent trained wild animal shows which was the feature of the Pan-American and Charleston expositions, the great "Cave of the Winds," the wonderful Cingalese, the first of their native race to leave their native Ceylon; the beautiful Orient, with its camels, elephants, donkeys and people of the Far East; the German village, brimful of fun and frolic; the $50,000 golden chariots; the mammoth Ferris Wheel; the world-famous dog and monkey circus; Wild Minnie, from far-away Australia, the first of this kind ever placed upon exhibition and the last of an extinguished race; Esau, the wonderful man-ape, the most startling exponent of the Darwinian theory ever seen by mortal man; the finest selection of free acts ever seen with an aggregation of this character, including Speedy, the champion high diver of the world. He is rightfully named, death-defying, daredevil Speedy. The wonderful Ricardo Bros., so long and favorably known with the Barnum and Bailey circus, the greatest show on earth; Coopers' Cycle Sensation, and Van Norman's Spiral Ascension. There are hosts of other attractions too numerous to mention. If you want to be happy and contented, and have one week of fun, mirth and merriment, commencing May 11 and ending May 16, come to the Paducah Free Carnival.

A MESSENGER FROM MARS.

New York, April 28—The sexton of Calvary Episcopal church of this city, had just finished lighting and arranging for the service Sunday evening, and half a dozen of the early arrivals were in the pews, when a man about 27 years old marched slowly up the aisle and inside the chancel. Standing for a moment in front of the altar he bowed solemnly, and then facing the worshippers announced:

"Listen, ye mortals of the earth. I am a messenger from Mars, the first ever sent by our glorious ruler to the mean inhabitants of this lowly planet."

Everybody present looked up in amazement. The man bowed again, and, turning to the altar, picked up a richly-bound service book.

"Hear the message," he announced. "I will read it to you." He started to read solemnly and not unpleasantly and the congregation began to realize the situation. The sexton hurried up to the altar, and as he approached the reader stopped. He readily complied when the sexton asked him if he would not read the rest of the message on the church steps, and bowing to the worshippers again, he marched in dignified manner out of the church, and, after saying goodbye to the sexton at the door, disappeared.

CASE OF MUTUAL DISTRUST.

How Daniel Webster Spent Unnecessarily Anxious Time.

In the early days, before the country was gridironed by a network of railways, Daniel Webster was on his way to Washington and was compelled to proceed at night by stage from Baltimore. He had no traveling companion and the driver had a sort of felon look which produced no inconsiderable alarm in the senator. "I endeavored to tranquilize myself," said Webster, "and had partly succeeded, when we reached the dark woods between Bladensburg and Washington—a proper scene for murder or outrage—and here I confess my courage again deserted me. Just then the driver turned to me and, with a gruff voice, inquired my name. 'Where are you going?' said he. The reply was, 'To Washington. I am a senator.' Upon this the driver seized me fervently by the hand and exclaimed: 'How glad I am! I took you for a highwayman.'"

SOCIETY IS UNIQUE

FORMED FOR RELIEF OF DECAYED MILLIONAIRES.

Philadelphia Association of Rich Men Has a Fellow-Feeling for Those Once Wealthy but Now in Distress.

It is curious and, indeed, startling, says the Philadelphia North American, to find that right here in this city there has existed for nearly fifty years without the knowledge of more than a few persons an association of men devoted to a unique and unostentatious well-doing. Public ignorance of their enterprise is all the more remarkable from the fact that among these men are some of the wealthiest, most influential and best-known citizens in the community.

But it is the unusual character of their beneficence that attracts interest. All these men are wealthy—some beyond the dreams of avarice—but their purpose has nothing to do with the amelioration of the condition of the pauper. On the contrary, there is a society for the rescue of the decayed millionaire.

They call it the Merchants' Fund association, and the 49th annual meeting was held the other day in a little old room in South Fourth street, away from the clamors of the more pretentious virtues.

In a word, the plan of these kindly old gentlemen is to relieve once wealthy companions of their early days, who have since lost their fortunes or in other ways suffered the vicissitudes of time which come to so many.

The act of incorporation, dated 1854, says that the object is "to furnish relief to indigent merchants of Philadelphia, and especially those who are aged and infirm," and there is a commentary on the ironic whims of circumstance in the fact that since that time $300,000 has been paid out in benefits.

In that first year seven merchants were aided, while in the year just past forty-three beneficiaries were on the roll and $10,200 was disbursed. Comparison of these figures might afford matter for interesting speculation. Is the merchant of to-day more reckless than he of half a century ago, or is it that the number of merchants has increased, and, therefore, of course, the number of unsuccessful merchants.

More than $400,000 is now in the invested fund of the organization, and it is almost constantly receiving accretions, so that there is plenty left wherewith to provide for the unfortunate plutocrats of the future, if the supply of unfortunate plutocrats holds out.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD
WAS IN FLOWER
 Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth Rewritten and Rendered into Modern English from Sir Edwin Caskoden's Memoir
 By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]
 Copyright, 1898 and 1901, by the Bowen-Merrill Company

"All this bed is a foretaste of paradise," he said as he lay upon the mattress. It was a pitiful sight, and I could hardly refrain from tears.
 I will ask you to go back with me for a moment.
 During the week between Brandon's
 interview with Mary in the anteroom
 of the king's bedchamber and the tragedy at Billingsgate he and I had many conversations about the extraordinary
 situation in which he found himself.
 At one time, I remember, he said:
 "I was safe enough before that afternoon. I believe I could have gone away and forgotten her eventually,
 but our mutual avowal seems to have
 dazed me and paralyzed every power
 for effort. I sometimes feel helpless,
 and, although I have succeeded in keeping away from her since then, I often find myself wavering in my determination to leave England. That was what I feared if I allowed the matter to go to the point of being sure
 of her love. I only wanted it before,
 and very easily made myself believe it was impossible, and not for me. But now that I know she loves me it is like
 holding my breath to live without her.
 I feel every instant that I can hold it
 no longer. I know only too well that if I but see her face once more I shall breathe. She is the very breath of life for me. She is mine by the gift of God. Curses upon those who keep us apart." Then musingly and half interrogatively: "She certainly does love
 me. She could not have treated me as she did unless her love was so strong
 that she could not resist it."
 "Let no doubt of that trouble you," I answered. "A woman like Mary cannot treat two men as she treated you.
 Many a woman may love or think she loves many times, but there is only one man who receives the full measure of her best. Other women again have nothing to give but their best, and when they have once given that they have given all. Unless I have known her in vain, Mary, with all her faults, is such a woman. Again, I say, let no doubt of that trouble you."
 Brandon answered with a sad little
 smile from the midst of his reverie.
 "It is really not so much the doubt as
 the certainty of it that troubles me." Then,
 starting to his feet, "If I thought she had lied to me, if I thought she could wantonly lead me on to suffer
 for her, I would kill her, so help me God."
 "Do not think that. Whatever her faults—and she has enough—there is no man on earth for her but you. Her love has come to her through a struggle
 against it because it was her master.
 That is the strongest and best, in fact the only love, worth all the self
 made passions in the world."
 "Yes, I believe it. I know she has faults; even my partiality cannot blind
 me to them, but she is as pure and chaste as a child and as gentle, strong and true as—as a woman. I can put it no stronger. She has these, her redeeming virtues, along with her beauty, from her plebeian grandmother,
 Elizabeth Woodville, who with them
 won a royal husband and elevated herself to the throne beside the chivalrous
 Edward. This sweet plebeian heritage bubbles up in the heart of Mary and will not down, but neutralizes the royal
 poison in her veins and makes a goddess of her." Then with a sigh: "But if her faults were a thousand times as many, and if each fault were a thousand times as great, her beauty would atone for all. Such beauty as hers can afford to have faults. Look at Helen and Cleopatra and Agnes Sorel. Did their faults make them less attractive?
 Beauty covereth more sins than charity and maketh more grief than pestilence."

CHAPTER XL
 LOUIS XII. A SUITOR.
 AS soon as I could leave Brandon I had intended to go down to Windsor and give vent to my indignation toward the girls, but the more I thought about it the surer I felt there had somehow been a mistake. I could not bring myself to believe that Mary had deliberately permitted matters to go to such an extreme when it was in her power to prevent it. She might have neglected her duty for a day or two,
 but sooner or later her good impulses
 always came to her rescue, and with Jane by her side to urge her on I was almost sure she would have liberated Brandon long ago, barring a blunder of some sort.
 So I did not go to Windsor until a week after Brandon's release, when the king asked me to go down with him, Wolsey and De Longueville, the French ambassador special, for the purpose of officially offering to Mary
 the hand of Louis XII. and the honor
 of becoming queen of France.
 The princess had known of the projected arrangement for many weeks,
 but had no thought of the present forward condition of affairs or she would have brought her energies to bear upon Henry long before. She could not bring herself to believe that her brother
 would really force her into such wretchedness, and possibly he would never have done so, much as he desired it from the standpoint of personal
 ambition, had it not been for the petty
 excuse of that fatal trip to Grouche's.

All the circumstances of the case
 were such as to make Mary's marriage
 a veritable virgin sacrifice. Louis was an old man, and an old Frenchman at that, full of French notions of morality and immorality, and, besides, there were objections that cannot be written, but of which Henry and Mary had been fully informed. She might as well marry a leper. Do you wonder she was full of dread and fear and resisted with
 the desperation of death?
 So Mary, the person most interested,
 was about the last to learn that the
 treaty had been signed.
 Windsor was nearly eight leagues
 from London and at that time was occupied only by the girls and a few old
 ladies and servants, so that news did not travel fast in that direction from the city. It is also probable that, even if the report of the treaty and Brandon's release had reached Windsor, the persons hearing it would have hesitated
 to repeat it to Mary. However that may be, she had no knowledge of either
 until she was informed of the fact that the king and the French ambassador
 would be at Windsor on a certain day
 to make the formal request for her hand and to offer the gifts of King Louis.
 I had no doubt Mary was in trouble
 and felt sure she had been making affairs lively about her. I knew her suffering was keen, but was glad of it in view of her treatment of Brandon.
 A day or two after Brandon's liberation I had begun to speak to him of the girls, but he interrupted me with a frightful oath: "Caskoden, you are my friend, but if you ever mention their names again in my hearing you are my friend no longer. I will curse you!"
 I was frightened, so much stronger
 did his nature show than mine, and I took good care to remain silent on that subject until—but I am going too fast again. I will tell you of that hereafter.
 Upon the morning appointed the king, Wolsey, De Longueville and myself, with a small retinue, rode over to Windsor, where we found that Mary,
 anticipating us, had barricaded herself
 in her bedroom and refused to receive the announcement. The king went upstairs to coax the fair young besieged
 through two inches of oak door and to induce her if possible to come down.
 We below could plainly hear the king
 pleading in the voice of a Bashan bull,
 and it afforded us some amusement
 behind our hands. Then his majesty
 grew angry and threatened to break down the door, but the fair besieged maintained a most persistent and provoking silence throughout it all and
 allowed him to carry out his threat
 without so much as a whimper. He was thoroughly angry and called to us
 to come up to see him "compel obedience from the self-willed hussy," a task
 the magnitude of which he underrated.
 The door was soon broken down, and
 the king walked in first, with De Longue-
 ville and Wolsey next, and the rest of us following in close procession. But we marched over broken walls to the most laughable defeat ever suffered by besieging army. Our foe, though small,
 was altogether too fertile in expedients
 for us. There seemed no way to conquer this girl. Her resources were so inexhaustible that in the moment of your expected victory success was turned into defeat; nay, more, ridiculous disaster.
 We found Jane crouching on the floor
 in a corner half dead with fright from
 the noise and tumult, and where do
 you think we found her mistress?
 Frightened? Not at all. She was lying in bed with her face to the wall as cool as a January morning, her clothing in a little heap in the middle of the room.
 Without turning her head, she exclaimed: "Come in, brother. You are quite welcome. Bring in your friends.
 I am ready to receive them, though not in court attire, as you see." And she thrust her bare arm straight up from the bed to prove her words. You should have seen the Frenchman's little black eyes gloat on its beauty.
 Mary went on, still looking toward
 the wall, "I will arise and receive you
 all informally if you will but wait."
 This disconcerted the importunate
 Henry, who was about at his wits' end.
 "Cover that arm, you hussy!" he cried in a flaming rage.
 "Be not impatient, brother mine! I will jump out in just a moment."
 A little scream from Jane startled everybody, and she quickly ran up to the king, saying: "I beg your majesty to go. She will do as she says so sure as you remain. You don't know her. She is very angry. Please go. I will bring her downstairs somehow."

"Lightness of a 'Dorothy Dodd'"

On the Scales

A great many interesting facts may be discovered with a pair of scales, but it is doubtful if any single fact will be more interesting and valuable to the average woman than the weight of her shoes.

For this tells her the number of ounces that must be lifted thousands of times each day, and a little calculation will show that she lifts tons of shoe leather a day—no small labor in itself.

The "Dorothy Dodd" shoe saves the lifting of more than one and one-half tons every day. A pair of "Dorothy Dodd" shoes are several ounces lighter than ordinary shoes. The feet are just so much more comfortable, and you are so much less tired. Put a pair to the test!

DAUGHTER OF A PITTSBURG MILLIONAIRE ENSLAVES HERSELF WITH AN ENGLISH LORD.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 28—Amid scenes as impressive as a lavish display of wealth, the dignity of society and the solemnity of the recital of the Protestant Episcopal church could provide, the marriage of George Francis Alexander Seymour, earl of Yarmouth, England, and Alice Cornelia Thaw, was solemnized yesterday afternoon in the Calvary church.

Josiah C. Thaw gave the bride away and the Rev. W. L. McEwan, assisted by the Rev. John H. McIlvaine, officiated. Dr. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, performed the first part of the service, and Dr. McIlvaine, pastor of Calvary church, finished.

Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor, while Nancy Carnegie, Miss Martha Ferguson, Lady Jane Seymour, Miss Isabel May, Miss Elinor Wilson and Miss Mary Thaw Thompson were bridesmaids. Lord Edward Seymour, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

Theatrical Notes.

The great and only Herrmann, the most expert adept in the art of magic the world has ever seen, will mystify and delight the theater-goers of this city at The Kentucky tonight. Herrmann is a name that is synonymous with all that is mysterious and awe-inspiring and most mystifying and incomprehensible feats of magic are performed by him with a charm of manner and running fire of wit that would lure a confirmed cynic into admiration. For his present engagement in this city he brings many new novelties that have never been seen here before. Several sensational illusions presented by him have set all America talking.

RUSSIA OUR FRIEND.

FORMER MINISTER TO CHINA DISCUSSES THE SITUATION.

Evansville, Ind., April 28—Charles Denby of this city, who served as minister to China for twelve years, speaking of the seizure of Manchuria, says: "We are interested in the fight of Manchuria; first, on account of our trade; we send a great deal of petroleum and lumber, in addition to cotton, to that country. Whether we would, should Russia absorb Manchuria, lose our trade with it, can only be conjectured. The interests of the United States and Russia have never been antagonistic. Russia has seemed to have for the United States a sentimental friendship. All the world knows how firmly and kindly she stood by our side during the Civil war."

"If the question rested simply on the proposition that Russia alone of all the powers should acquire territory in China it need not give us great concern. It is probable that Russia would adhere to the principle of the 'open door.' But the seizure of Manchuria in all human probability means the disintegration of China, and that we are opposed to, because we are now an Asiatic power and we do not want China to be divided up into hostile camps, confronting the Philippines."

"The real danger is that the great powers, England, France and Germany, will in their turn seize portions of the Chinese territory. The 'favored nation' clause in the treaties provides that every nation shall enjoy all the privileges granted to any one nation. Under this clause, when in 1897 Germany procured China to cede to her a part of Shan Tung, Russia immediately demanded and secured the cession of a part of the Lian Tang peninsula. England and France followed suit in acquiring other portions of China."

"Plainly Russia, in order to keep open and protect the great trans-Siberian road, must directly or indirectly control Manchuria."

"Plainly, also, we cannot make war on Russia because she exercises the perfect right to take whatever territory China may concede to her."

STRICKEN SPEECHLESS

SINGULAR MALADY EPIDEMIC IN TRAVERSE CITY, MICH.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 28—A peculiar malady is abroad in Traverse City. The doctors are puzzled over the disease, many victims having been stricken speechless. The most recent victim is Louis Strack, who retired in perfect health Friday night and awoke up the following morning unable to speak a word. There has been an epidemic of this strange malady of late, and a number of persons have been afflicted, many of whom lost their vocal powers and remained in that condition for weeks. The disease is believed to be the same that puzzled Saginaw physicians a few weeks ago. When Dr. C. W. Stowe, a well known veterinarian, was the victim, his symptoms were precisely the same as those exhibited by sufferers in Traverse City.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

James Johnson, jailer at Benton, let Cleveland Wilson, a colored trusty, go after a bucket of water Sunday and the negro ran away. He was caught after a lively chase.
